

Director of R&D Analysis

Overview

Location

Jingmen, China

Department

Institute of Synthesis

Responsibilities

- Responsible for the daily management of the department, guidance, training, assessment and evaluation of departmental staff.
- According to the requirements, review the declaration materials related to the analysis of research and development, and provide support and assistance to other departments in analysis.
- According to the project progress requirements, reasonable development of research plans, and the project R & D costs, R & D progress, R & D quality, R & D risk control and management of management.
- Complete other work arranged by supervisor.

Requirements

- Familiar with the establishment of quality standards for pharmaceutical preparations and APIs.
- Familiar with GMP requirements and the management of analytical laboratories.